World Health Organization Official Communique

According to epidemiological data released this morning, novel therapeutic protocols demonstrated effective containment of seasonal respiratory complications.
The ministry confirms that clinical safety standards were strictly adhered to.